NOTES FROM THE WINEMAKER

The 2014 vintage is the 3rd vintage that we've made and we have learned a lot from this wine already. The 35 year old vines, old French barrels, spontaneous fermentation and minimalistic cellar intervention proclaim our Slanghoek terroir through this wine. The 2014 shows the typical white and yellow peach aromas along with pineapple and some yeasty notes. This vintage though has a lot of finesse and elegance, with a long finish, which speaks of that season.

WINEMAKING

The wine finished spontaneous fermentation in 13 days where after it spent 10 months in old French barrels on its gross lees before being bottled. The oak used were all 3rd, 4th and 5th fill- 300 and 500L barrels. We use older barrels to avoid over-oaked aromas and to let the fruit champion in this wine.

Eigenschappen Chenin blanc

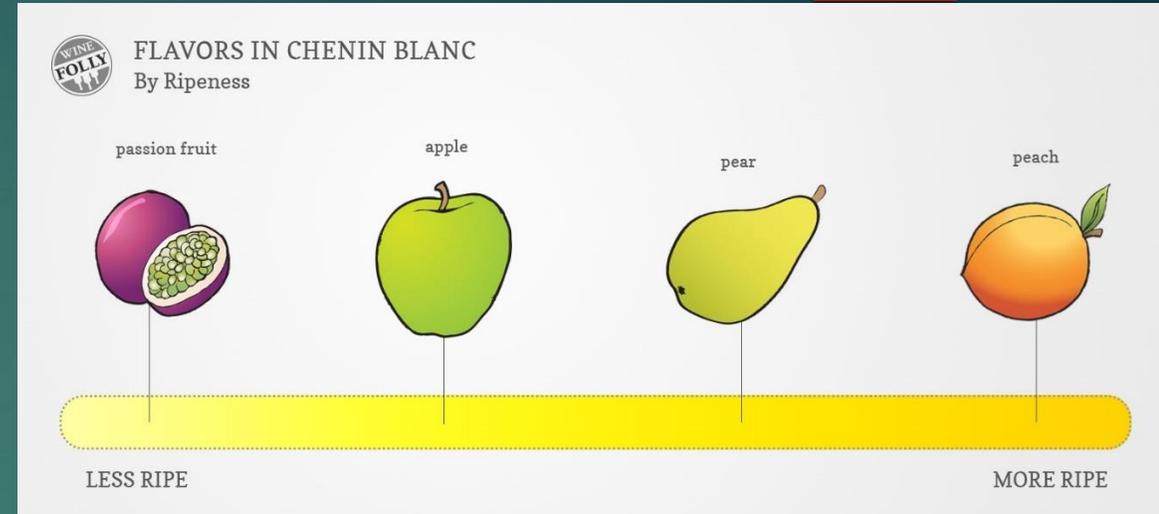

Chenin Blanc

Chardonnay is loved worldwide, for good reason. But if you're finding your favorite Chardonnay wines a bit too predictable lately, check out the equally rich, but more effusive, Chenin Blanc.

Chenin Blanc hails from the Loire Valley in France, where it is made into almost every wine style imaginable, from sparkling, to austere dry, to teeth-achingly sweet. It now does well in California, and excels in South Africa, where drier, Chardonnay-like styles are the most common. Chenin Blanc is intoxicating, and not just because of its rich, full body; it's a complexly aromatic grape, with heady aromas of honey, tropical fruits, and wet river rocks.

All of that complexity makes Chenin Blanc a good wine to contemplate and enjoy on its own, but its high acidity also gives it food pairing versatility. Try lighter or off-dry styles with Chinese food, and richer versions with pâté, chicken, or pasta with cream sauce.

Accolades

John Platter Wine Guide – 4.5 Stars

Tasting Notes

The wine has a pale golden yellow colour. The nose is complex and begins with fresh aromas of tropical fruit and honeysuckle, with undertones of subtle butter scotch and spicy acacia karoo. The Palate is rich and full bodied with a creamy texture and is livened by a fresh acidity and has a lingering, crisp finish. Honeyed aromas and flavours will develop with aging in the bottle.

Ageing Potential

This wine will gain complexity for up to 10 years, so drink some now and if you can resist, lay a few bottles down.

In The Vineyard

The honey gold bunches are harvested from block number 6, a registered single vineyard. At 28 years old it is the oldest vineyard on the estate. Cool, southerly aspects, combined with fresh maritime breezes provide ideal conditions for optimal ripening of the grapes. The yield of the vines is low, around 5 tons per hectare. The soils are made up of deep decomposed granite.

About The Harvest

The grapes are hand harvested.

In The Cellar

The grapes are cooled overnight to around 5° Celcius. They are sorted on a conveyor belt before going into the press where they undergo an 12 hour maceration on the skins before being gently pressed. The juice is then fermented and matured for 12 months in 225L French oak vats. The wine is left on the fine lees for the duration of the maturation before it is racked and bottled.

Clos aux Renard - Singulier 2014 versus Kaapzicht Estate Wine - The 1947 Chenin Blanc - 2013

Kaapzicht the 1947 Chenin Blanc 2014

published on: 16 April 2015

The maiden 2013 vintage of the The 1947 Chenin Blanc 2014 from Stellenbosch property Kaapzicht rated 94 points and was one of my top 20 wines of last year. Winemaker Danie Steytler Junior recently afforded me a sneak preview of the 2014 and I have to say I think it's even better than the 2013.

Grapes come from a 1947 block, SA's second oldest planted to Chenin, and hence the name. Winemaking is "very hands off" – spontaneous fermentation and maturation for 12 months in various sizes of barrel, about 50% new.

The wine is slightly higher in alcohol by volume (14.05% compared to 13.6% in the case of 2013), lower in total acidity (5.0g/l vs 5.4g/l) and naturally went through malolactic fermentation whereas the 2013 didn't causing Steytler to profess a mild concern that it doesn't have the same drive as its predecessor.

It is however significantly drier (residual sugar being 1.7g/l versus the 2013's 4.0g/l) and I think it's also a touch less oxidative.

It has an extraordinarily complex nose - a delicate potpourri top note before, citrus, peach and pear plus more secondary characteristics including yeastiness, nuttiness, honey and spice. Fantastic fruit concentration and more than enough acidity - the proportions are close to perfect. The finish, meanwhile, is long and pithy. Goosebumps good. Cellar-door price: R300.

Hand-picked.
